Upper School and Middle School Choral Teacher

Richmond, Virginia, United States • Music • 2019-3

Description

St. Catherine's School seeks a full-time enthusiastic and innovative music educator to direct and teach choral music in the Middle School and Upper School. St. Catherine's has a rich tradition of vocal music that includes regular performances of wide-ranging concert repertoire and liturgical music, annual musical theater productions, and a select a cappella ensemble. The ideal candidate will build strong relationships with students, contribute to the overall life of the school, and assist with the organization of various school services, ceremonies, and functions.

Responsibilities include creating a classroom community based on the School's core values and developing and implementing a choral curriculum that includes basic music theory concepts and diverse musical styles and techniques. The successful candidate will direct and/or co-direct multiple choral ensembles (including a select co-ed group in collaboration with St. Christopher's School) and the Upper School musical, serve as an Upper School academic advisor, and provide musical accompaniment for chapel services. Most importantly, the School seeks an instructor who takes joy in exploring, perfecting, and performing music with adolescents and teenagers with a wide range of abilities and interests.

St. Catherine's School is an Episcopal day school in Richmond, Virginia, founded in 1890 and enrolling 993 girls age 3 to grade 12. Located on a 16-acre campus in the western part of the city, St. Catherine's Core Values include pursuing academic excellence, developing character, nurturing spiritual growth, celebrating individuals and building community.
