POSISION: Full-time Lower School Science Teacher
SCHOOL: National Cathedral School for Girls, Washington, D.C.

National Cathedral School (NCS) announces a search for a full-time Science teacher in the Lower School (Grades 4-5). The position begins in August 2022.

NCS science teachers utilize a student-centered pedagogy and a laboratory-based science curriculum that makes extensive use of technology. Qualified candidates will possess aptitude in teaching a variety of science topics, have a background in curricular and pedagogical innovation, and have experience with designing and implementing a STEM curriculum for students in elementary school grades. Experience in curriculum development and assessment is required, as the department is engaged in curriculum review. Candidates are expected to have a willingness and ability to use differentiated instruction in the classroom and work collaboratively with the grade level team. Other responsibilities include completing extra duties such as play and dismissal supervision, planning science-related day field trips, and attending regular department, division, and grade-level meetings. Teachers are expected to be at school from 7:45-3:45 pm; although, occasionally there will be days when meetings are held after school; faculty are also expected to participate regularly in the life of the school during the workday and occasional afterschool or evening events A Bachelor’s degree is required; a Master’s degree is preferred.

NCS is committed to leadership in multicultural education and a culturally diverse faculty and staff. The school therefore seeks applications from candidates who will contribute to an atmosphere in which all are valued and supported.

Interested candidates should send an electronic application that includes a brief cover letter, résumé and the names and contact information of three to five references. In addition, applicants should submit a sample lesson that the candidate has used with students. Please submit these materials as one combined attachment in Word or pdf format with “Full-time Science Teacher” in the subject line to: NCSemployment@cathedral.org

National Cathedral School requires all employees to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19, including any boosters recommended and available to the general public, absent eligibility for medical or religious exemptions.

National Cathedral School serves 593 students in grades 4 through 12. Faculty and staff are curious intellectually, flexible, and collaborative, and they view education as an engaging vocation. Our students are engaged, fun, and kind, and they love to be challenged and viewed as confident individuals. Faculty and staff maintain a lively conversation about the meaning of an excellent education, an interest in pedagogy, and innovative uses of technology. As an Episcopal school, NCS welcomes people of all backgrounds and faiths while maintaining a close identity with Washington National Cathedral’s commitment to being a house of prayer for all people.
